

Richard C. Loeb, General Counsel
U.S. Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board

Richard C. Loeb is General Counsel of the U.S. Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board (CSB) where he provides legal counsel to the Board on a variety of issues involving administrative law and agency practice. A career member of the Senior Executive Service, Mr. Loeb previously served as Counsel to the Chairman of the CSB, and immediately prior to that, he spent six years as Executive Director of the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission. Mr. Loeb's career spans across a number of federal agencies, including the Office of Management and Budget, where he served as a senior legal counsel for almost twenty years. Mr. Loeb teaches administrative law at the University of Baltimore Law School. He earned his JD at Case Western Reserve University and his BA from the University of Maryland. He is admitted to the bars of Maryland and the District of Columbia.