

Ray S. McAllister, Ph. D.

Dr. Ray S. McAllister is the Senior Director of Regulatory Policy for the Science and Regulatory Affairs Department of CropLife America (CLA). He joined CLA (then the National Agricultural Chemicals Association) in 1989 and has been involved in most major regulatory and science policy issues for crop protection during the last 25 years. Previously, he worked with Dynamac Corporation (1986-1989) and was an Assistant Professor at Iowa State University (1982-1986). Dr. McAllister earned his Ph.D. from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in Weed Science.

Established in 1933, CropLife America represents the developers, manufacturers, formulators and distributors of plant science solutions for agriculture and pest management in the United States. CropLife America's member companies produce, sell and distribute virtually all the crop protection and biotechnology products used by American farmers.
